Technical Terrain - Film Screening

Velocious Cycle Couriers are hosting a screening of a new documentary project created by Claire Tayler, a collection of 5 short films about bike messengers in different cities, all from FLINTA+ riders.

"I've been going to different cities and asking messengers about things that are important to them. About projects they're starting, about the ways that we live, and the way that bikes are a central feature in all of it. Technical Terrain is the documentary project that came out of it."
